FIRST OF A KIND - This pre-stressed concrete pipe now can be seen spanning the Shaw-sheen River, at the foot of Essex st., after being placed in position by the Pacella Construction Co. It is the first time pre-stressed pipe has been used to cross a river, and is much less expensive than normal construction. The pipe was designed by Camp, Dresser and McKee, and its installation was supervised by that firm. (Cole)

Saved Money; Leads The Way In Using Pre-Stressed Pipe

May Revise Brook Plans

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff posed the possibility this week that Rogers Brook plans might have to be revised, so that the available $350,000 can be utilized to best advantage.

While still attempting to get an answer from the state Waterways Division as to the funds on hand for the project, Mr. Duff explained that he believes the town should explore the possibility of doing less work than is shown in the plans. What this work would be, he indicated, could be decided perhaps through a revision of the engineering plans.

The state has $175,000 that can be used to match a like amount (Continued on Page 14)

Andover saved a lot of money last week, and at the same time led the way in using the first pre-stressed concrete pipe ever used to span a river.

The pipe - 18-inch inside measurements and with a 30-inch outside diameter - was placed across the Shaw-sheen River as an integral part of the trunk sewer line now under construction.

The town's engineering consultants, Camp, Dresser and McKee, designed the pipe, using known pre-stressing principles. Pre-stressing had never been used before, however, in relation to pipe.

The 55-foot pipe actually spans a 51-foot area, unsupported except by its own rigidity. It provides a gravity flow for the sewage, as it leaves the Essex st. area on its way to the pumping station at Riverina rd. The pipe, empty, weighs 15 tons, and is a 16-ton unit when filled.

According to the engineers, use of pre-stressed pipe is at least $100 a foot cheaper than the normal method of constructing a siphon and laying pipe on the river bed. (Continued on Page 15)

Blackmer Acting P.A. Headmaster

Alan Blackmer, dean of the faculty at Phillips Academy, is acting headmaster of the institution, as it opens next Monday.

Some 828 boys are expected to attend - the largest number in the school's history. Last year's opening day registration was 819.

Mr. Blackmer has been at the Academy since 1925, and is responsible for beginning the Adult Evening courses and the Summer School. During the past year, he also served as consultant to the superintendent of schools in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Headmaster John M. Kemper will return to the School at the end of the year.

Whole Building Charged By 13,000 Volts Of Electricity

Luck rode on the shoulders of employees at the Howe Heating Corp. on Lupine rd. Tuesday, and there was enough left over to help members of the fire department too.

When the firm's 20-foot radio antenna toppled over and came in contact with the 13,000 volt high-power line, the charge shot back through the radio, inside the office. Deputy Fire Chief Albert Cole likened the experience to having a roomfull of lightning. One employee threw a bucket of

CROWLEY TRIBUTE IS WORTHY CAUSE

The big tribute to Woody Crowley is slated for Oct. 6, at the Andover Country Club.

Tickets are available at the fire and police stations, from members of the departments, and from many other citizens. This is a cause that deserves support from all residents of the town, who can support it by either purchasing tickets, or donating funds directly to the Woody Crowley Fund at any of the town's banks.

Abbot Opens Next Tuesday

Mrs. Alexander Crane, principal will greet 228 students Tuesday morning, Sept. 19 as Abbot Academy begins its 133rd year.

The faculty will return to Abbot Saturday and will gather for dinner in the home of Mrs. Crane. The first faculty meeting of the year will follow dinner.

Several faculty changes have taken place as the new school year begins.

Miss Jorunn Buzzi of the Physical Education Department will divide her teaching time between Bradford Junior College and Abbot. She has a certificate from the State School of Gymnastics, Oslo, Norway; has taught at the Ogden Senior Primary School in Sogne, Norway. She has been teaching recently in Drammen, Norway.

Miss Lilla Connolly has recently been a house mother at the Baldwin School in Bryn Mawr, Pa., and will serve in the same capacity at Abbot.

Miss Blair Danzoll will teach Latin at Abbot. This June she received an A.B. degree in Classics from Wheaton College. For several summers she has been a counselor (Continued on Page Three)

Wanted: A Civil Defense director.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff has this week accepted the resignation of Lee E. Noyes as director of Andover's Civil Defense effort, and is seeking a replacement.

Mr. Noyes has held the post for nearly three years.

Mr. Duff said the resignation was accepted with regret, after Mr. Noyes said he can not continue because the pressure of his own business is too great.

The manager also agreed that the CD director's job is now more demanding than formerly, because of the condition of world affairs. He noted that the state CD agency probably will be activated sufficiently to make it necessary for the local agency to follow through on its portion of the CD plans. The state should be entitled to matching federal funds - and these in turn (Continued on Page 14)

MAY DISCUSS VOTING PLACES

It appears that the Selectmen may again discuss the hours that the polls will be open, and the number of voting places, at their meeting next Monday night.

It had been formerly decided that only Precinct one would open, for all voters, from 7-7. Although such action appears to have been legal, there has been discussion among interested candidates and their supporters as to having all the precincts open.

Boosters Plan Town-Wide Drive

The annual membership drive of the Boosters Club will be held Oct. 2-3-4, under the direction of Charles O. McCullom.

The high school student body is being asked to cooperate in the drive, and students will call at homes in the community between the hours of 5:30 and 8 p.m.

Membership in the Boosters entitles any adult full privileges at any of the Club's meetings. Assisting Mr. McCullom in the drive are the following officers of the Boosters: William Busby, president; Thomas Wallace, vice president; James O'Reilly, second vice president; Homer Wadman, treasurer; Herman Bolla, secretary; Charles O. McCullom Jr., Walter Pearson, James Bennett, John Rooks and Robert McIntyre, directors.

Members of the Club will appear at the High School assembly tomorrow morning to tell the students what they can do to help in the drive.

YWCA Opens Season Sept. 28

The Y.W.C.A., a member agency of the United Fund of Greater Lawrence, will open its fall Andover program at the Youth Center Thursday morning, Sept. 28.

The program has been planned by requests from members and on advice from the Y.W.C.A. Andover Committee. From 9-11, for four weeks, there will be sessions in dried arrangements, a workshop type class in which members will arrange their own weeds, pods or dried flowers, under the direction of Mrs. Edith St. Jean.

Following this, beginning Nov. 2, Mrs. Helen Wilkinson will conduct a four-week class in the making of cone wreaths. For the eight week session, there will be a course in painting with water colors for beginners, with Mrs. Ruth Hatton as teacher. At the same time, Mrs. Louise Mullen will hold a class in sewing for beginners or more advanced sewers.

In the physical education department, Mrs. Dorothy Christopher will conduct a class in pre-ski conditioning exercises at 9:15 and a class for beginners in Badminton at 10. From 11-12, the gym will be set up for recreational badminton for any members who may wish to take advantage of this opportunity.

Coffee will be served from 11-12 and it is hoped that informal discussions will develop on topics of interest to all women.

A supervised playroom for pre-school children of mothers participating in the program will be open from 9-12.

Registration may be mailed at any time or will be taken at the Bay State Bank in Andover Thursday morning, Sept. 21, from 10-12.

GOP Candidates Meeting Oct. 2

The Andover Republican Town Committee will sponsor a "Meet the Republican Candidates" Night Oct. 2 at 8 p.m. in the Central School Auditorium.

B. Allen Rowland will be the moderator and it is hoped that many voters will turn out to greet those running in this special election to fill the unexpired term of Representative Frank S. Giles, who has been appointed director of public safety by Governor Volpe.

The primary will be held Oct. 24 and the election Nov. 14.

Potential voters may register at the Town Clerk's office any day during hours it is open. The last opportunity to register before the state primary is Oct. 4, when the office will be open until 10 p.m.

BUILDING CHARGED BY 13,000 VOLTS

was dangerous, he explained, because of the metal.

Fortunately, the aerial had caught on only one of the high-power wires, and had broken the guy wires, which wrapped around the second high-power line. These made the contact that fully charged the structure - but they burned through shortly, leaving only the radio and its electrical connection fully-charged.

When the fire department arrived, Deputy Cole, without knowing that the antenna was down, automatically reached under the radio and unplugged the equipment. Although shielded with the usual heavy-duty rubber insulation, the line was fully-charged at that time, and the deputy was standing in water as well.

When told what had happened, firefighters promptly cleared the building of personnel.

Power Co. crews arriving at the scene called for experts in handling the 13,000 volt lines. It was about an hour after the incident before crews were assembled to handle the job, then it was decided to wait another half hour before shutting down the power station, also located on Lupine rd. Raytheon Co. gets its power through the line, and the wait was ordered so that the shut-off would coincide with the change of shifts at the plant.

Once the main power feed was shut down, crews were able to get a rope on the offending aerial and pull it to the ground.

Among other damage in the building was that to several small metal filing cabinets on a desk some feet away from the radio. Standing back-to-back, the cabinets were fused together by the electrical charge.

Little Stories about Great Hymns Now the Day Is Over

Now the day is over,
Night is drawing nigh;
Shadows of the evening,
Steal across the sky.

Jesus, give the weary
Calm and sweet repose;
With thy tenderest blessing
May our eyelids close.

Rev. Sabine Baring-Gould was touched by the poverty and frustration of the miners and millworkers of Horbury, England, his first parish. He started a night school to help them, and held services in a dilapidated upstairs room. For these meetings he wrote this cherished evening prayer. In response to his sincere and tireless efforts, within a year a mission chapel was rising at Horbury.

Pike Opens With 217

The Pike School, and independent country day school in Andover, began the new year Wednesday with a peak enrollment of 217 boys and girls.

There are 123 boys and 94 girls on the school's roster, which represents 11 different communities in the Merrimack Valley. Thirteen new boys and girls will join the veterans in grades one through five, and seven new boys and girls will join grades six and seven. The eighth and ninth grades are limited to pupils already enrolled.

Limitations imposed by size and a program which requires small classes has resulted in there being more than 60 boys and girls on waiting lists for the various grades.

New teachers include Mrs. Leon Somers, who has been assigned to seventh and eighth grade English classes. Miss Harriet McKee will assist Douglas Dunbar Sr. in the teaching of Latin at the seventh and eighth grade levels where two new sections have been created to make possible the continuance of small classes and a "tailored" program for the boys and girls. Mrs. Margaret Calderwood has assumed responsibilities for the kindergarten group, and she will be assisted by Mrs. Arthur Williams.

Educational innovations include the broadening of the school's program of ungraded teaching in grades through five. The scholastic results of last year's pilot program have led to the program's being established on a formal basis this year. More than one third of the students in grades three through five will study in grades other than in the home room to which they have been assigned for English and mathematics. Completely departmentalized teaching remains a feature of grades six through nine.

Will Observe Constitution Week

The week of Sept. 17-23 will be observed as Constitution Week, when patriotic societies throughout the land will put on displays, and the children of the schools will once again learn about the great system of laws which was adopted by the Constitutional Convention held in Philadelphia Sept. 17, 1787.

Priscilla Abbot chapter, D.A.R.,

sponsors the observance in Andover with a display of items pertinent to the week in the Memorial Hall Library. The public is invited to view this display, which shows what the forefathers established so many years ago and which now is known as the greatest set of articles and amendments since the Magna Carta.

School children throughout the land learn the preamble to the Constitution in the early grades: "We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

Junior Football Registration Set

The Junior Football League will play its first game Oct. 1 at the Playstead, starting at 1:30.

Registration for the League has been going on, and will conclude Saturday at the Playstead. However, those boys registering Saturday should bring a parent to the Playstead, because the parent's signature is required before the boy can play.

Boys who reach their 10th birthday by Sept. 1, 1961, and who will not be 14 before Jan. 1, 1962, are eligible. Weight restrictions state that boys must weigh no more than 120 pounds the day they register, unless they are under 12 years of age. There is no weight limit for boys not reaching 12 before Jan. 1, 1962.

Under rules of the League, each of the four teams has 25 players, and the second team must play the entire second quarter of each game. The teams play a double round-robin schedule.

The first practice sessions will be held after Sunday, when team rosters are announced. To be chosen, each boy must be judged by the tests listed on the back of the registration card. Boys who played last year must again be chosen specifically, but their coaches of a year ago may have first preference once the boys have been chosen to play.

Dance Tomorrow Benefits South PTA

JERALD CORNWELL

The South School PTA will hold the first social event of the year Sept. 15, with a dance at the Andover Country Club.

Dancing will be enjoyed from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Jerald Cornwell, president of the organization, recently conducted a meeting of the executive committee. Ways and Means co-chairmen Mr. and Mrs. James Reid reported on final details of the dance, and may be contacted for reservations.

Sparks Named To Fill Vacancy

Francis D. Sparks began his new duties as acting lieutenant in the fire department Sunday, following appointment to that post by Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton and Town Manager Thomas E. Duff.

A 15-year veteran on the force, Sparks will serve during a six-month period, with approval of the state Civil Service.

He is filling the vacancy caused by the extended sick leave of J. Woodrow Crowley, and has been assigned to platoon two, headed by Deputy Albert Cole Jr.

Sparks is the son of the late Kerr Sparks, who served for 32 years on the department. He was named April 1, 1946 and made permanent March 18, 1948.

Chief Hilton explained, in making the appointment, that an examination will be called, for those wishing promotion to lieutenant, pending the retirement of Lt. Crowley.

To complete the Central station's roster, while Lt. Sparks is assigned to platoon two, Firefighter Harold Hayes has been transferred from the Ballardvale station to the third platoon.

An appointment of a firefighter will be made after four men, now on the Civil Service list, take their physical examinations.

STREETS READY FOR ACCEPTANCE

Several streets accepted at town meeting, with the restriction that the Selectmen approve them when work had been completed, are now listed as ready for acceptance by Town Manager Thomas E. Duff.

He has indicated that Holly ter. needs drainage work and that boundary markers must be installed on Marilyn rd. and Cindy In.

Others, ready for acceptance, include Wild Rose dr., Hickory In., Cutler rd., Pearson st. and Smithshire Estates.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

What Would You Do?

What to do about 100 or so violators of the town's zoning by-laws can be a complex problem — not as simple as one might believe at first.

If you were a selectman, what would you do?

You are faced with many violations of the town's laws. And they have one thing in common — all are in some fashion breaking the law relating to conducting a business in a residential area.

There the similarity stops.

Some may be real estate offices or other professional uses not specifically mentioned as being permissible under the by-law.

Others may be contractors, using homes in well-settled areas for the storage of their equipment.

Still others may be using their homes for various types of businesses.

Some are annoying to the neighbors; others are not.

A few are new; many have been in existence for some years, but not long enough to qualify as a non-conforming use.

What would you do?

If you accept the position that laws are made to be enforced fairly, without discrimination of any sort, you probably would tell all of the violators to cease and desist at once.

If you wish to examine each violation separately, you would find that some are of no nuisance value at all; no one is bothered; and closing the business down would, in effect, mean putting a man out of business.

You would probably find that the older businesses were even encouraged to locate where they are by the town; then as country areas were divided into sub-divisions, the businesses suddenly became an integral part of the residential area, and were objectionable.

What is the fair thing to do, knowing that the law exists and should be obeyed, but also realizing that the town should be just?

These are the questions the Selectmen, themselves, are facing as they try to find an answer to the problem. It's no wonder they have hesitated to give snap judgments, but have, instead, asked for legal guidance on how they can proceed.

We can sympathize with members of the Board; this is not a question that is easily answered. We do feel, however, that if any decision to strictly enforce the by-law is taken, each violator should be given plenty of opportunity to relocate his business before legal steps are taken that could result in putting him out of business.

Please, No More Plans

Directives announced this week concerning future operations of the Division of Waterways make it less probable that Andover will get the amount of money needed to complete the Rogers Brook project.

All fiscal responsibility, formerly under the Division, now rests with the financial office of the Department of Public Works. All engineering and plans must bear the recommendation of the chief engineer, before decisions are made.

These two new policies seem to be working against the town, in its effort to get the Division to keep promises made by its director, Rodolphe Bessette.

First, without the financial responsibility that he formerly exercised, Bessette probably can not keep his promise. This would be up to individuals in the DPW office — and we feel that they are unlikely to jump head-first into this situation, no matter how many written statements the town has from Bessette.

Secondly, the requirement that the chief engineer make his recommendation on all plans gives us an unknown quantity — will he approve of the plans as drawn for the Brook, or any subsequent revision of them?

It looks as though the town won't be able to get more than the $175,000 in matching funds, at least not for a long time.

If this is all the money available, obviously the plans must again be revised in order to do some portion of the project without exceeding the total expenditure of $350,000.

We wonder whether this is advisable.

The plans have been drawn and re-drawn several times, since the first effort by Clinton Goodwin. We've paid engineering fees directly, and through our state taxes.

SUSIE'S SONNETS

by Sylvia Neilson

WHY SPACE SPY?

*The Soviets now think it is fitting to hide us
About our two satellites, Tiro and Midas.
They fly through the skies, more alert than an eagle;
And this, Red Star says, is strictly illegal.
But should the dawn break, when they want to retire us,
We at least will be warned by old Midas and Tiro.*

Seems as though we've paid enough, and should either now get the project done, or go without. Certainly there shouldn't be any further large expenditures for engineering.

Strictly For The Boys

With the announcement that the junior football league will begin its activities for the second year, we are reminded that all such efforts are primarily and solely for the benefit of the children.

The junior football league, and all its members, are to be congratulated on the time they spend, and the results they produce in the teaching of football and good sportsmanship.

And as long as the league continues to provide useful activity for the boys, without adults becoming competitively involved, it will remain a good thing for our town.

In other forms of organized athletic activity for the younger boys, it has been obvious in recent years that adults have imposed their own desires, their own ambitions, their own objectives on the boys. Some have, in effect, become parents' games, with the boys used as players. This is not desirable, and we trust that all concerned with the football league will continue operating it strictly for the benefit of the boys, doing only those things deemed wise for the youngsters, and without adding those things that are pleasing only to the adults whose boys are involved.

Book Awards

Ever since 1949, the book industry has been making annual awards to distinguished American books in the fields of fiction, poetry and non-fiction, which, in the opinion of three separate panels of judges, are most outstanding among the publications of the previous years.

This spring awards were made to William L. Shirer for his history "The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich", to Conrad Richter for his "Waters Of Kronos", a poetically written novel and to Randall Jarrett, for his work "The Woman At The Washington Zoo."

These awards are made by the American Publishers Council, The American Booksellers Association and the Book Manufacture's Institute.

Over the years the award has gone to fiction writers Nelson Algren, for his "Man With The Golden Arm", James Jones for his "From Here To Eternity", William Faulkner for his "Collected Stories" and again for his book "A Fable"; John O'Hara won the fiction award for his "Ten North Frederick" and Wright Morris' "The Field Of Vision" earned the fiction honor. Other recipients were Brendan Gill, Ralph Ellison, Saul Bellow, John Cheever and Bernard Malamud. Non-fiction winners were Ralph Rusk for his biography of Emerson, Newton Arvin for "Herman Melville", Rachel Carson for her "Sea Around Us", Joseph Wood Krutch for his "Measure of Man." Bruce Catton, Herbert Kubly, George F. Kennan and Catherine Drinker Bowen were among the winners. As might well be expected, the poetry honors were carried off by such well-known writers as William Carlos Williams, Wallace Stevens, Marianne Moore, Archibald MacLeish, Conrad Aiken, W. H. Auden, and Theodore Roethke, to make a random selection.

All books listed here may be borrowed from the Memorial Hall Library.

Family Day
At Grotonwood

REV. W. CARTER JOHNSON

Approximately 90 members and friends of the Andover Baptist Church gathered last Saturday morning for a Family Day at Grotonwood, a day of spiritual renewal combined with Christian fellowship.

This program, held under the auspices of the Board of Christian Education, was directed by a steering committee consisting of Mrs. June Shattuck, chairman of the board; Mrs. Melba Weaver, Webster Woodworth and Rev. W. Carter Johnson. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thompson serving as registrars.

Each person was required to wear a prominent identification tag, to facilitate keeping the group together. Promptly at nine o'clock the caravan of cars headed for Grotonwood, which is the Massachusetts Baptist Camp and Conference Center, located at Groton.

Upon arrival at Grotonwood, the group was immediately drawn into several lively games of volleyball, croquet, horse shoes, and several relay races, which had been organized by James B. Bennett Jr. and Webster Woodworth.

By noon the group adjourned to the outdoor Vesper Area, where James Kitchens conducted a period of worship, preceding the dinner hour. The people divided, as some ate in a lovely main dining hall and others chose to picnic.

Immediately following lunch, the group reconvened in a large Conference Hall for an exciting film strip entitled "Jeopardy". Mrs. Weaver was in charge of this portion of the program. The Misses Barbara Haywood and Dawn and Dale Woodworth entertained with a vocal trio, "Ye Are My Friends", accompanied by Mrs. H. Allison Morse, director of music at the local church.

Following a busy schedule, the group once more adjourned to the outdoor Vesper Area to listen to the highlight of the afternoon - a talk given by the new pastor, the Rev. W. Carter Johnson. Mr. Johnson spoke on what he believes are the five imperatives that any church must face if it expects to grow.

The Church must clarify her beliefs - the 20th century Christian must know what he believes; The Church must re-think her purposes - what is the church's unique function in society; The church must re-evaluate her method - do we conduct our business in an orderly, efficient way? The Church must examine her facilities - these are the material things whereby she can accomplish her ministry; The Church must re-vitalize her fellowship - people must take the time in this mechanical age to get to know others, in order to understand and live with one another.

After this talk, the group enjoyed the waterfront for the remainder of the afternoon. At the end of the day, Mr. Johnson concluded with a benediction.

The Committee working on the Family Day at Grotonwood included Mrs. June Shattuck, chairman, Mrs. Melba Weaver, Mrs. James Kitchens, Samuel Dimlich, Mrs. Esther Estelle, Mrs. Helen Towne, Mr. and Mrs. Webster Woodworth, Mrs. Arthur Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Otis, Miss Beulah Dennison, Winfred Sutton, Mrs. Charlotte Guest, James Bennett Jr. and Charles Shattuck Jr.

Church School
Begins Sunday

Church School begins this Sunday at the Free Congregational Church.

grade up meet at 9 o'clock; nursery through second grade meets at 10:15, the same time as the Church worship service. A special, extended-hour class will meet for the third graders during the hour of worship, which will consist of creative activities for those who wish to attend. An entire staff of teachers is engaged for all classes.

DIMLICH CASE
TRIAL CONTINUES

A jury-waived session of Superior Court is continuing late this week to hear evidence in the Benjamin F. Dimlich case against the School Committee.

Various witnesses have been on the stand, as Mr. Dimlich seeks to prove that he had tenure as principal of the Junior High. The School Committee contended he did not, and refused to re-appoint Mr. Dimlich last year.

MISS PUTNAM TO LEAD DISCUSSION

More than 100 librarians from Massachusetts, New England, and other parts of the country are attending the First Institute on Adult Book Selection in Public Libraries at Simmons College Sept. 13 to 15.

librarian of the Memorial Hall Library, will conduct a workshop on how to formulate a book selection policy for a changing society. The afternoon lecture will be by Mrs. Florence Craig of the Cuyahoga County Library in Cleveland, on how to put our books to work.

Mr. John Leacock, is one of many hundreds of local home makers who like to shop at the Andover CO-OP. This is what Mr. Leacock says:

"I like to SHOP CO-OP because it's a tradition in my family. I was brought up in Scotland on CO-OP food as a child and now I shop CO-OP for my own family. I understand that my grandparents were great CO-OP boosters in the old country. As long as the CO-OP can give us good foods at the right price in a nice store, conveniently located, I'll continue to trade there and I hope my children will, too."

The above is one customer's reason for marketing at our store. There are other reasons which appeal to other people.

Plan Repairs To Municipal Structures

Although the town may sell the infirmary and community building in Ballardvale, repairs are being scheduled.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff told the Selectmen that repairs must be made, specially at the infirmary, where the roof needs to be completely repaired.

Work at the community building in the Vale will include pointing up the foundation, painting and general interior repairs.

He explained that the work is essential, whether or not the building are eventually sold, and that leaving the work undone would result in receiving less money for the structures. One estimate of the roof work at the infirmary is approximately $3,000.

TEEN CENTER OPENS SATURDAY

The Andover Teen Center will open Saturday night.

The first program of the fall season will be a dance, with a prominent disc jockey on hand.

It has also been announced that all ninth graders are now eligible to belong to the Center. All dues are payable at the door Saturday night.

LOOKING FOR CD DIRECTOR

are matched locally - once legal problems concerning the employment status of state workers is clarified.

Mr. Duff noted that the CD director becomes the central source of authority if a disaster takes place with all municipal responsibility placed on his shoulders to carry out the town's part in the plans.

He suggested that an appointee should be someone who is easily available locally a good part of the time. The post has been paying $500 annually, but the manager said it probably will be necessary to appropriate more money for Civil Defense next year.

Mrs. Alma Lopez of Los Angeles, Cal., has recently been a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albion Johnson of High Plain rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Danielson and their family recently returned to their home on Cutler rd., after a summer's vacation spent at Surry, Me.

On Tour Of Europe

Gordon Schwartz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Schwartz, 73 Park st., is one of 24 students of Principia College, Elmhurst, Ill., who are overseas on a five-country European tour.

The tour is part of the college program in the school of nations, public affairs conference.

Schwartz was selected by the college, based on grades and on being a good representative of the United States. He is entering his senior year at Principia, and is a 1958 graduate of Punchard High.

AWARDS RECEIVED AT TOPSFIELD FAIR

John Chmielecki of High Plain rd. was among the 11 Essex County farmers to receive a plaque at the Topsfield Fair for his 34 years of service to agriculture.

The award was made by the president, Augustus G. Means, at the 12th annual luncheon, held in honor of veteran farmers by the Essex County Agricultural Society.

LEADS THE WAY IN PIPE USE

Moreover, maintenance will always be less expensive, because siphons are notorious for requiring constant attention.

It took four hours to install the pipe, compared to a normal three-week project for the installation of a siphon and pipe.

The engineers explain that every step of the way - in design and construction - the help of experts in the field was used when needed. Although pre-stressing pipe is new, the principles are the same as those used in bridges, for example.

It was noted that Pacella Brothers Construction Co., which also makes its own concrete pipe, retained pre-stressing experts from New York when constructing the pipe used here. They also had used the help of a Prof. Simpson of M.I.T., a long-time expert in the field.

In laymen's terms, the engineers report, the concrete pipe is built to meet special requirements designed by the firm. The walls of each section - they are 10 sections of pipe in the one unit spanning the river - are thicker than normal. Conduits are built into the wall of the pipe, through which wire can be run when the sections are laid end-to-end.

Then powerful machines hold a kind of tug-of-war, pulling each end of the wire until it is taught. Concrete poured into the conduit then holds the wire at the required tautness, giving it its rigidity.

Now that one such pipe has been constructed and placed in position, it is anticipated that the novel method will be used country-wide. Camp, Dresser and McKee plan to present the idea at technical meetings, and are also planning to use the method in spanning a river in Pittsfield and one in Dalton. The latter job will require a 70-foot pipe, and the firm is confident that even longer lengths can be manufactured properly.

Even the science of aerodynamics enters into the design and construction, because wind pressure could conceivably cause such a pipe to collapse eventually. For example, a 35-mile an hour wind, blowing directly up the river against the pipe, without being diverted by any objects, could set up air currents that would cause the pipe to vibrate. This would, in turn, mean its collapse at some time.

The pipe spanning the Shawsheen River, however, has been constructed so that small "wings"

Lane
Funeral Home
John W. Lane, Jr. Eugene S. Lane
Robert E. Lane
68 Park Street, Andover
GR 5-1516

can be permanently fastened to it if this becomes a problem.

The "wings" - used to break the flow of air - have not been used in the original design here because the engineers believe the bridge over the river will break up the wind sufficiently.

Also taken into consideration in the design of the pipe is the flood problem. Because floods of the Shawsheen River weren't bad enough, the engineers took some of the worst floods that have occurred in Connecticut, worked out the possible height of the water in the Shawsheen River if one of these should occur here, then placed the pipe above this theoretical flood level.

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman:
"I am beginning to wonder how much longer Andover is going to allow the tree companies to cut our shade trees for wire clearance without any supervision from the town."

"They are not satisfied with a couple of feet clearance as formerly allowed under the supervision of our tree wardens, but cut a wide swath through the trees, regardless of how they look after they are through."

"I know we have to have the wires; also it is nice to have the trees that help to make Andover the beautiful town it is."

"Let us have some supervision when this work is being done to the mutual satisfaction of all concerned. The tree companies will gladly agree to pay the man from the tree department who supervises this work."

"Let us stop this mutilation of our shade trees before it is too late."

Robert T. Berry
83 Pine St.

To the Editor of the Townsman:
"May I request the privilege of your Letters column to call to the attention of teachers of English, History and Art, from the 8th grade up, the existence of an exhibition which we at Phillips Academy have found particularly useful during our Summer Session which was attended by pupils from public schools across the nation."

"The exhibition, 'Significant Forms -- The Changing Character of Western Art,' covers a range of 5,000 years and includes such famous names as Veronese, Rembrandt, Delacroix, Picasso among the three dozen treasures borrowed from museums, dealers and collectors. Carefully selected examples of painting and sculpture illustrate the changing attitudes from Classical to Medieval to Renaissance and Modern times. A text accompanying the exhibit comments on the general historical environment, the artistic background and the specific meaning of each work of art on display."

"The Addison Gallery of American Art is open free to the public from 9 to 5 weekdays and 2:30 to 5 on Sundays. Arrangements for evening hours for special groups may be made on request. The exhibit has been extended through Sunday, Oct. 1, in order to allow schools and colleges a few extra days to take advantage of it."

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, DONNA — Ever see a happier one-year old? She's Donna Couture, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Couture, of Lowell st. Donna is named after the hurricane that blew through here a year ago Sept. 12, because she was born while the winds blew. The young lady made her appearance into the world in the dim light of a flashlight, as even the emergency power at the Hale Hospital, Haverhill, failed. And although she didn't quite make it for her parents' anniversary, they did celebrate their 13th anniversary that same month. Everyone knows how fast a child can reach for things they shouldn't have, and Donna did just that — reaching for and taking a handful of frosting just as photographer Albert Cole Jr. took this picture.
